Old Citizen

Passes to Reward

Elisha Robert Winn Cox, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Powell county, passed peacefully away Tuesday morning after an illness of several days. Mr. Cox had been in his usual good health up to about a week before his death, when he was taken ill with stomach trouble and for several days no hope was held out for his recovery.

Mr. Cox was born near Jonesville, Lee county, Virginia, on May 3, 1829, and would have been 86 years of age in a few months. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Susie Jane Pitman of near Beattyville, who died in 1884, and his second wife being Miss Mary Winn Crabtree, who survives him. He is also survived by one son, A. F. Cox, of Greely Lee County, and five daughters, Mrs. Nannie N. Smith, of Torrent, Mrs. Margaret Pendleton, of Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Edna Ann Cole, of Millers Creek, Estill county, Mrs. Lucy E. Smith, of Crandon, Wis., and Mrs. Eliza E. Smith, of Radical, Lee county.

Mr. Cox was formerly a farmer, and had also been surveyor of Lee county years ago, for nearly twenty years. He moved to Clay City four years ago. He was a member of the Masons, and also of the Knights of Pythias, having belonged to both orders for about 25 years. He was a member of the Methodist church here, and always attended the services.

In the death of Mr. Cox, Clay City loses one of her best citizens. He was a man that to know was to like, and he was a friend to all, both old and young. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in their trouble.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, burial being in the Eaton graveyard. Services were conducted by Rev. L. F. Mann, after which the Masonic order took charge of the ceremonies. A large number of relatives and friends from out of town attended the burial.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage of Miss Fannie Wright of this city, and Mr. A. B. Morris of Lexington, was solemnized last Monday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wright. E. H. Ritchie pastor of the Methodist church officiated. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Morris left on the 1 o'clock train for Lexington, where they will make their future home. The groom is a son of George Morris, former car inspector here and is employed on the L. & N.

STORE MOVED TO CLAY CITY.

The Farmer's Union store which has been located at Vaughn's Mill for the past eight months, has now moved into the Kennon building, and Manager Frank Kennon is getting things in shape for a big business. Frank is "right on the job" when it comes to handling merchandise, and being up-to-date, is a strong believer in printers' ink, so watch for their ads, if you want some bargains. The store has been a success since its inception, and their move to Clay City, where they will have a wider field, was a wise one.

SCHOOL REPORT FOR POWELL.

A recent report of the census bureau discloses the fact that there are 2212 Powell county school children between the ages of 6 and 20 years, of whom 1065 or 48 per cent, attend school. This report related to the census of 1910, but is just being made public. Six hundred and eighty-eight of these are between the ages of 6 and 9, and 321 of them attend school. From 10 to 14 years of age there are 790, with 500 attending school; from 15 to 17 there are 395, with 189 attending school, and from 18 to 20 there are 339, with 57 attending school.

Mr. J. H. Fitch, of Lexington, Division Freight Agent of the L. & N. was here Tuesday on business.

Mr. J. E. Burgher, who has been confined to the house for some weeks is again able to be around.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

The second quarterly meeting of the Clay City charge will be held here Saturday and Sunday, January 16 and 17, by the Rev. J. R. Deering, Presiding Elder of Lexington.

Dr. Deering will preach Saturday night, and Sunday morning and night and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed after the services Sunday morning.

The business meeting will be held after the preaching on Saturday night and all officials of the church are expected to attend the business sessions. Everybody is cordially invited.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

The stockholders of the Clay City National Bank held their regular annual meeting Tuesday, after which the directors had a meeting and elected the officers for the coming year. There was no change made in either officers or directors.

WINCHESTER BOY MARRIES.

Mr. Lewis Rupard and Miss Lonnie Good, both of Winchester, were married Tuesday evening at Lexington, at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. T. Ward. Mr. Rupard is the proprietor of the Sanitary Bakery at Winchester, and is well known to many Powell county people, who wish he and his bride every happiness.

DO LESS "CUSSIN."

If some of our merchants would spend less time "cussin" the mail order houses and more time in systematic advertising and encouraging the people to trade with them, there would be less cause to complain of the interference of the mail order houses.—Cadiz Record.

This might well apply to Clay City. Several of our merchants complain about the inroads of the mail order house into their trade, but they do not seem to notice that the mail order people believe in advertising, and they must think that a newspaper can be kept going on "hot air." These same men, when they are interested in a political campaign, are always the first to urge the editor to rub it into the other party, and if they have any free stuff to run, they don't forget the paper, but when it comes to paying for an advertisement, it is against their principles.

Advertising in The Times will pay you. If you don't believe it, let us convince you by a trial.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Matherly returned Wednesday from Oldtown, Ky., where they were called a few days ago by the sudden illness and death of Mrs. Matherly's sister, Miss Oaty Webb. Miss Webb visited Mrs. Matherly just a few weeks ago, and was apparently in the best of health at that time.

STANTON.

Mr. W. O. Rearick, of Nada, made a business trip to our town last week.

Mr. T. G. Cole, of Knowlton, made a business trip to our town last Friday.

There has been so much rain this week that no one has gone a visiting and hence there is not much news this week.

W. H. Elliott, State Secretary of the Christian church of Kentucky spoke Saturday night and Sunday at the Christian church.

The writer had the misfortune to lose his cow last Saturday. She had eaten acorns the day before which probably caused her death.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Barnett of near Clay City, were visiting with Lennie Crowe this past week. Lennie is doing fine at this writing.

Rev. J. C. Hanley was in Lexington Tuesday and Wednesday and while there he heard the famous tenor, Evan Williams, sing at the Ben Ali.

Mrs. Callie Davis and daughter returned to her home near Middletown last week. She has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ance Norton.

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blackburn on Monday of this week a fine little girl. Mother and baby are doing well. Mrs. Blackburn's mother is with her.

The W. C. T. U. women of Stanton held an all-day meeting at the College and Christian church in the interest of State-wide prohibition Thursday. Two women speakers from abroad spoke in the interest of the work. As this goes to press before Thursday the writer will have to wait till next week to give a fuller account.

The college has been enjoined from receiving the school money from the state for teaching. We cannot understand why any citizen of Stanton would want to take such action. Stanton College is doing a splendid work for our citizens, our young people and for the town and for the whole country around about. State College men say that our students who come there to enter their University pass the highest grades, far better than most of the other schools in the state. This college is about the only redeeming feature of Stanton. It is a wonderful blessing to our people. Every teacher that teaches in this college is a splendid Christian man or woman. They are thoroughly equipped and trained for their work. Nothing but the best influences and environments are allowed in the school. The people who are supporting this college send in $8,000 every year to pay the teachers. The state only pays the small part of what it takes to run this school. We save several thousand dollars every year by having this college. We would have to build a high school building

GETS PRIZE FOR CORN.

Virgil Rose, who took a few samples of his corn down to the Farmers' Week Corn Show at Lexington, last week, was awarded three prizes. Mr. Rose is one of Powell county's most ambitious young farmers, and although he did not win first premium in every class he showed the Bluegrass farmers that good corn can be grown in this county. On ten ears of White Dent corn Mr. Rose got second prize; on a single ear of white, second, and on a single ear of other than white or yellow, he captured first prize. This makes a pretty good showing in competition with the rest of Eastern Kentucky.

FREE SEEDS.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture through the kindness of Senator Johnson N. Camden have sent us a sack of seed, of which one package will be given to each subscriber who calls at this office. Each package contains five smaller packages, one of watermelon, one of musk melon, one of lettuce, one turnip and one radish. Call early as the supply is limited.

Some bootleggers have been operating around the Brodhead-Garrett mill and in order to discourage their efforts, a reward of $50 is being offered by the management of the mill for their arrest and conviction.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Estaes, of Hardwick's Creek, are being congratulated on the arrival of a fine girl, who was born Sunday.

and employ at least five teachers, buy the fuel, employ a janitor and numerous other expenses. Before this college came to our town the people paid a school tax of $1.50, we are informed, and since the college came it has been as low as 20 cents on the $100. That is a big saving. This college will go right on just the same no matter what action the citizens take. But it means a big saving to us to have the present arrangement with the college. It will save us tremendously in taxes. We get a better grade of teachers than we would otherwise get. The teachers are of splendid character and have the best interest of our children at heart. Stanton College will do a great work for our town if we will give it our help and co-operation. If this college were to be taken away there would be nothing here to stay for. The writer came here to place his children in this school. It is not a school of his own faith but he is glad of the opportunity of having his children educated within its walls and by its teachers. It seems to the writer that every loyal citizen of Stanton ought to come to its support. Spite work is the most despicable kind of work. No college is perfect and no teacher is perfect. They make mistakes, but we all do that.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce
A. M. LOWE
as a candidate for Representative from this district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 4, 1915.

We are authorized to announce
as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner in the Third Railroad Commissioners District. Subject to the action of the August primary.

The two daughters of George Alexander, the Paris banker, who pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement a few weeks ago, are now passing around a petition asking for his pardon. It is to be hoped that they will not get enough signatures to have any effect on the Governor. Of course, it is hard for a man with Mr. Alexander's upbringing to have to stay in prison and mingle with the common herd, whose money he stole, but it is no harder that it will be for some of the widows and orphans who suffered at his hands, to start their savings all over again. Mr. Alexander had every opportunity in the world to make money and live easy, and because of the position he held, his fall brought many others down. If he is obliged to serve out his sentences, which aggregate about eight years, he will have no harder time than many of those he robbed without a thought, and his punishment may have a deterrent effect on some others who might be inclined to follow his footsteps. Let the law take its course.

Hon. Green Garrett was in town Monday, and in spite of the fact that he was, as usual, very busy, he found time to look us up, and have his announcement as a candidate to succeed himself on the Railroad Commission, inserted in The Times. Mr. Garrett needs no comment or introduction to the people of Powell county, where he is as well known as at his home in Winchester. As the moving spirit of the Brodhead-Garrett Company, which is now practically the only employer of labor to any extent in the county, he is known to nearly every man in this neighborhood, and none will be found that have not a good word for him. Mr. Garrett expects to have no opposition in the Republican primary, and as yet, no Democrat has announced his intention of making the race.

SEN. CAMDEN IS NOT A CANDIDATE

KENTUCKIAN ASSERTS HE DOES NOT SEEK CHAIR OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

NO OTHER POLITICAL DESIRES

Prefers to Work for Upbuilding of State in the Capacity of a Citizen.

Washington, D. C.—Senator Camden, when asked whether he will be a candidate for governor of Kentucky, gave the following interview:

"About a month ago when I declined to discuss the matter of making the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. It was because I desired to give careful consideration to the expressed wishes of persons throughout the state whose opinions I value. I have now positively decided not to make the race.

"I do feel greatly indebted to the Democracy of the state for my nomination for Senator at the primary last August, and to the people of Kentucky generally for their ratification of that nomination at the polls. In November, having been appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy existing in the Senate, I was naturally anxious to have the appointment approved by the electorate of the Commonwealth. My majority of 33,494 at the primary, carrying ten of the eleven Congressional districts, and of 33,939 at the November election, carrying nine of the eleven districts over my Republican opponent, went far beyond my most sanguine expectations.

"Furthermore as a matter of sentiment I was deeply gratified to occupy a seat in the United States Senate where my father, an old line Democrat, had served as the choice of the state of West Virginia.

"The selection of a Governor, and indeed of all state officers, at this time, is certainly a matter of the utmost importance. Kentucky stands at the door of great opportunities, agricultural, educational and commercial. Whether she enters and takes possession of all that the future has in store for her, depends very largely upon whether her affairs are guided by a broad, sound and constructive policy. "Whatever may come to pass, I shall always be my purpose as a private citizen to give the faithful, earnest service to my state and party which I feel that every citizen owes, and thus to evidence my profound sense of obligation to the people of Kentucky."

LEXINGTON HERALD ON CASH BASIS

On Sept. 15 the Lexington Herald announced that from date its mailing list would be conducted on a strictly cash in advance basis, all subscribers being discontinued on the first and fifteenth of each month who were not paid in advance. This practice was adhered to from that date, but on the 15 of December it was decided by The Herald to continue all subscribers whose subscriptions expired between that date and the 15 of January to the last named date, thus giving ample time for all who have been in the habit of paying on the first of the year to do so before the expiration date. They also offer the rate of $5.00 to all of those subscribers who pay the full year in advance before January 15.

A daily newspaper was never a more welcome visitor to a home than it has been for months past and as it will be for months to come. The great war of Europe seems just in its beginning, while trouble seems again brewing on the Mexican border. The markets, on account of the unsettled conditions abroad and at home, continue to vary constantly and a daily newspaper is an absolute necessity to the farmer for his protection.

VAUGHN'S MILL.

(Too late for last week.)

S. B. Baker, one of the leading business men of this place, is in Stanton on business this week.

Miss Ruth Davis finished her brothers school at Snow Creek, which closed Friday.

But at last I got rid of the obnoxious Dunk by turning him over to my brother.

While Dunk and my brother were having their business talk, I found that Chip and the boys had gone on some errand out on the range. In sheer curiosity, I determined now to have a look at the place where Chip lived. I boldly entered the bunkhouse and found the foreman's section. There were no end of surprisingly good books,—Tennyson, Kipling, Bacon, Voltaire and Shakespeare. And while I idly handled a Shakespeare, I found a drawing. It was captioned: "The Old Maid's Credentia!" And the face of the old maid was—myself. It was a caricature, pure and simple. And I should have been indignant. But I could not be indignant, in the light of the fact that the drawing was surprisingly good. I remembered, then, all that Mrs. Bennett had told me of her son's artistic abilities. And now this excellent drawing, though it ridiculed me, corroborated Mrs. Bennett's praises.

Of course I had not let my brother know who Chip was. I had not told him that Chip was Mr. Claude Bennett, the millionaire banker's son. Nor had I ever for a moment given Chip the least reason even to suspect that I knew who he was.

And now, as I viewed this excellent drawing, this caricature of "the old maid doctor," who should enter, without warning, but Chip himself.

I was at first inclined to be abashed at his finding me there in his "den." But the opportunity to chide him for the drawing was not to be overlooked even to apologize for intruding in his den. So, ignoring the fact that I should not have been discovered there and should at least try to make some lame explanation, I instead said:

"So excellent an artist as you, Chip, should not be devoting his time to cowboying. He should be in the art centers of the world, improving the talents that God gave him." I said all this with biting sarcasm, as I showed him the caricature.

He looked scared. He had never meant me to see that drawing.

"It's on me," he blurted, abjectly.

"What can I do to be saved?"

"Draw some more—but choose subjects more worthy and subjects whom you esteem more highly," I said.

He looked sheepish enough, and to hide his embarrassment he now announced that he was looking for his gun.

"Where's my six-shooter?" he murmured.

"Going to shoot some one?" I asked.

"I'm going to shoot my best friend!" he replied.

"Good heavens!" I protested. "Your best friend. Who, may I ask, do you deem to be your best friend?"

I think that somehow I experienced a little tiny feeling of jealousy. "Best friend" seemed to me to be some one in his life of whom I had never heard.

"It's my horse, Silver," he said. "Silver has broken his leg. And now I've got to kill him to put him out of his misery."

"Nothing of the sort!" I cried, now with all my professional aplomb aroused. "I'll save your best friend. I'll set his leg."

"Impossible!" cried Chip.

"Nothing is impossible to those who will," I retorted, by way of reprimand. "You get the boys ready to help me. I'll come right away."

And I ran to the house, got my surgical kit and—before the shades of night settled on the Flying U, I had set the leg of Silver. The animal was safe in his stall. And the best friend of Chip of the Flying U was saved from untimely death.

And that night, at supper, Chip, for the first time since my arrival at the ranch, spoke words that were akin to what I afterward learned he really felt. He said:

"Della—Miss Whitmore—up to tonight my best friend was Silver. But now—Weary, you chump, pass the hash!"

HENRY BOSWORTH IN RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP IN OLD KENTUCKY

State Auditor Who Has Helped to Bring About Fairer Valuation of Franchises of Big Corporations Is a Candidate For Democratic Nomination.

RUNNING ON RECORD AS PUBLIC SERVANT

Full Day's Work For Full Day's Pay and a Square Deal in Taxation For Rich and Poor Alike in His Platform.

To the Democrats of Kentucky:

After due reflection I have fully decided to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of this great state. I do this with a full sense of the high responsibility incurred, if nominated, and the obligations that will rest upon me if elected.

I have been a Democrat all my life and have never voted against a party nominee. My father before me was a Democrat, and I am proud to say that I have five brothers of the same faith, all of whom have an equally loyal with myself to the Democratic faith, and I now ask that the people of this great commonwealth shall form their judgment of my character, honesty and intelligence and fitness for the office, after a critical examination of my official conduct, and after making careful inquiries of those who know me as to my reputation for honesty and fair dealing to all men, and it is for them to say whether I am entitled to a continuance of that support and of the confidence they have in the past so generously accorded me.

While acting as treasurer of the state during the fearful financial panic of 1907, I made such disposition of the funds of the state in my care during that critical time as to preserve the credit of the state, without imperiling or destroying the credit of a single institution in the state and without the loss of a single dollar of the state's funds.

The auditor of the state, by virtue of his office, is chairman of the board of valuation and assessment of the state of Kentucky, which board has entrusted to it a duty which is of more importance to the people of the state than any other duty connected with that office. It is the function of that board, of which I have been chairman for the past three years, to value and assess for taxation, the franchises of all railroad companies and public service corporations doing business within the state. This character of property forms a considerable proportion of the total taxable property in the state and the amount of taxes these companies are required to pay is dependent upon the nature of the assessment made against them. That is, if the assessment of their property is too low, these corporations will not be charged with their full share of the public burden. If too high, then the owners thereof pay more than their fair proportion of the taxes of the state.

It was a matter of common report and general belief among the people of this state that the franchise of railroad companies and other corporations liable to a franchise tax had been inadequately assessed for many years, and consequently were not paying their fair proportion of the taxes due the state and the counties and cities therein. During my campaign for auditor in 1911, I pledged the people that, if elected, I would fully and fairly investigate this subject and, if I found that the franchises of these corporations were not fairly assessed, as chairman of the board I would use my power to correct any official delinquency that had theretofore existed in that respect.

Soon after entering upon my official duties as auditor I caused a careful examination to be made of the reports made by all corporations for assessment purposes to ascertain whether these corporations in the past had been adequately assessed for the purposes of finding out the truth as to the actual value of this character of property in the state.

I had this information carefully prepared, in writing, and when the time came to assess these franchises laid it before my colleagues on this board.

The result of the investigation I made of this subject showed that most of the small companies doing business in the state had previously been properly assessed; but the large corporations of the state, those with great power and political influence, had been grossly under-assessed (either by design or through incompetence). One of the most glaring examples of favoritism extended by the Cincinnati Gas Transportation company. The franchise of this company was assessed for the year 1911 at $20,824 and paid to the state taxes on that assessment amounting to $154. For the year 1912 the franchise of this company was assessed by the present board at $1,866,385 and paid to the state that year the sum of $9,321 in taxes, and a like sum for each succeeding year.

During the four years of my administration this one company will have paid to the state in taxes on its franchise on the assessment made by this board the sum of $37,324, whereas, had this board permitted the assessment of previous years to stand, it would in four years have paid the state $616. The state will have received from this company on the increase of its assessment in four years the sum of $35,708, enough to pay the salary of state auditor for ten years.

The total assessed value of the franchises of all corporations in the state for the taxing year of 1911 was $48,241,647, on which the state received in taxes the sum of $241,218.32.

The total assessed value of the franchises of all corporations in the state made by the present board, of which I am chairman, for the year 1913 was $132,421,415, on which the taxes due the state amounted to $612,107. On this assessment in the increase of the revenues of the state amounted to $370,889 a year. In four years the increase in revenues of the state from this source will amount to $1,500,000 in round numbers.

The four largest railroad companies in the state brought suit in the federal court in Kentucky enjoining the collection of the increased taxes levied on their franchises. The principal grounds relied upon by these companies to maintain their suit was, in substance, that the farm lands and other real estate in Kentucky was not assessed at more than one-half of its real value (it was not seriously continued his study of my picture openly, brazenly—sizing it up as a connoisseur and a critic who knew his business. Perhaps it was just imagination on my part, but I felt that he showed some surprise at my work—not, mark you, surprise at the excellence of my workmanship, but astonishment at its poor quality. And this aroused my ire. To get even with him I handed him a letter I had just written, saying:

"Oh, Chip, won't you give this letter to Weary to take to the mail. I understand Weary is starting for town at once."

He glanced at the superscription. It read: Dr. Cecil Grantham, etc.

I saw him twinge all over. It was a twinge of jealousy. This was just what I wanted. I was getting even with him for that twinkle that came into his eye while he viewed my painting. To him, Dr. Cecil Grantham sounded, of course, like a man's name.

"A dear friend of mine—very dear," I volunteered, wickedly.

"So I see," he said, crestfallen. "All right, I'll give it to Weary to take to town."

tended by the companies that the property of the railroad companies was assessed at more than its real value by the present board), and that the assessment against farm lands and city lots must be raised before the assessment against the property of the railroad companies could be increased.

I do not believe the farm lands of this state are generally assessed for taxation and valuation as low as one-half of their real value. If the value of the farm lands of this state should be estimated by capitalizing the net income derived therefrom on the basis of 6 per cent, which method is employed to find the value of railroad property, it would be demonstrated that real estate at present is assessed at approximately the full value thereof. In other words, if the same mode or method of ascertaining value should be applied to find the value of real estate it would be shown that real estate is assessed at its full value. The court, preliminary to issuing an injunction, required these companies to pay on a valuation greatly in excess of any sum they had paid on in previous years. The aggregate increase in the amount of taxes paid by these companies in the year 1912 over the year 1911 was about $125,000. In the years 1913 and 1914 a like sum was collected from these companies. During the three years of my administration these four companies have paid to the state $375,000 more in taxes than was paid by them during a like period of time under the administration of my immediate predecessors. These suits now pending, when decided, will determine finally the amount of taxes these companies will have to pay annually to the state in the future, and the question of the real value of this property will no longer be open to discussion.

It is important that the question of value of these franchises should be judicially determined and forever settled, because the belief has prevailed in this state among all the people for some years that the big corporations of the state were always active in politics of the two dominant parties in the state, with the end in view of being favored in the assessment of their franchises. With franchises of corporations assessed at their real value, as they should be, the corporations will be taken out of politics in this state, as they ought to be.

As auditor of the state for the past three years I have also been a member of the sinking fund commission of the state and, having information gained while acting in that capacity, I believe I am thoroughly familiar with the fiscal affairs of the state.

I am in favor of and, if elected, will advocate the passage of a law that will require that all state supplies used at all state institutions be purchased by the competitive bidding system, and that the lowest open bid for supplies furnished all institutions be accepted, and I believe the state could easily save $100,000 a year by inaugurating such a system.

I am in favor of and will work for, if elected governor, the establishment of a system of taxation that will be fair and just to rich and poor alike, and that will cause the listing of personal property for taxation, which now, because of the rate of taxation in many taxing districts, does not pay any taxes at all, and that will place the burden of taxation where it belongs, on those best able to bear it. I am in favor of such legislation, or of a constitutional amendment, if necessary, to put a fixed and a limit upon the rate of taxation in Kentucky, a step which I believe will cause our officials to follow a policy of economy and efficiency in the handling of the people's funds.

I am opposed to the convict labor system and favor the abolition of the present contract system and the elimination of the competition with organized labor that is the direct result of it. I am in favor of the use of convicts to produce what is needed by the state institutions and of the purchase of a farm on which they may labor in the open air to produce the foods needed in these institutions.

I am in thorough sympathy with the farmer, having been a farmer and living on a farm all my life. I will do all I can as governor for the great agricultural interests of Kentucky and the men and women engaged in it. As long as the farmer is prosperous every other interest in the state is prosperous, and all her people share in disaster to them as well as in their prosperity.

If I am elected governor I will do all I can to further the good roads movement and all that is possible to secure a liberal appropriation for the schools and their continued improvement.

If the people want for governor of the state a man who will devote his time and what talents he may have entirely to their welfare, without regard to any future political preference for I believe there can be no higher office, certainly no higher honor, than the governorship of the state in which I was born and reared, then I want the nomination. There is no reason why the officials of the state should fail to give to the state the same devotion to duty as is exacted by any business corporation of its employees, and I promise the people not only to devote that time myself to their interests, but, so far as may have the power to see that every other employee in executive departments of the state government does the same. A full day's work for a full day's pay will be the motto followed in the governor's office if I am elected, and it will apply to all the other departments over which I may have even the semblance of control or influence. HENRY M. BOSWORTH.

PERSONALS.

Miss Ethel Morton visited her parents in Stanton over Sunday.

Little Thurman Adams is still improving, and will be out soon.

Rev. D. H. Matherly will fill his regular appointment at Pharis Hill Sunday.

Mrs. T. B. Ballard, who has been ill for some time, and who was reported to be improving last week, is again confined to her room.

Elmer Morton has returned to his home in Lexington after a visit with Johnnie Ballard. He also visited his mother at Stanton, and friends in Jackson.

Little Charlie Mearns, who has been ill with whooping-cough is improving, as is the little son of Dee Adams. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ballard is also better.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ballard returned to their home in Winchester Monday, after a few days stay with friends here. Mrs. Ballard's mother, Mrs. W. H. Neal, has been very ill for some time, but is somewhat better now.

Miss Mattie Newell, who has been ill with la grippe, is now able to sit up.

Mrs. G. H. Dailey returned Saturday from a visit to her mother, Mrs. Coffey, at Wildee.

W. H. Harrison, Dist. Passenger Agent of the L. & N., was here Thursday morning on business.

Quite a number of people in town are suffering with severe colds and the doctors have been kept busy. Whooping cough among the children, has also been very prevalent.

Mr. Joe Mountz has been overhauling his building on Main St., and is now improving its appearance with a coat of paint, all of which are suspicious signs, especially with spring so close at hand.

Mrs. Turner, former matron of the Orphans' Home, who was taken to her home in Mississippi some weeks ago, after being dangerously ill for some time, is now considerably better, and good hopes are held out for her recovery.

Little Johnnie Kennon, who has been confined to the St. Joseph's Hospital at Lexington, for some weeks, is now greatly improved, and it is expected that he will be able to be brought home Saturday, although he is not yet able to sit up. His father will bring him home on a cot.

Good Bank Statement.

Your attention is directed to the splendid statement of the Powell County Deposit Bank, which appears in this issue. This bank is one of the best State banks in Kentucky, and their semi-yearly statements are always up to the mark.

VIRIDEN

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die. I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good. I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quick medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.
